U-Serve – Week of 10/16/13

Information and resources for those involved with service-learning at the University of South Carolina.

You are receiving this email because you have expressed interest in information about service-learning at the University of South Carolina. If you no longer wish to receive these updates, please respond to this email.

Updates & Announcements

The Sustainers: Builders and Preservers of Civil Rights in the United States
October 23-24, 2013, Columbia Metropolitan Convention Center
This event brings together builders and founders to tell the stories of how the nation’s most famed civil rights site developed. The public is often focused on the events and people connected to the site, but the stories behind the transformation of historic sites into permanent places for interpreting and understanding Civil Rights often go untold. Volunteers are needed to support all aspects of this unique two-day event. For more information or to volunteer, please contact Catherine Bruce, allsimkins@yahoo.com, 803-464-4149.

The Greater Good
November 7, 2013 5:30 PM – 8:00 PM, Capstone Campus Room
The Office of Student Engagement will collaborate with campus partners including Preston Residential College, Community Service Programs, and Capstone Scholars Program to sponsor the 3rd annual event entitled, “The Greater Good: A Conversation for Careers and Opportunities in the Non-profit Sector.” The three main focus areas of this student event are (a) careers in the non-profit sector, (b) establishing partnership with non-profit organization, and (c) networking among student leaders involved in service.

Scholarship and Recognition Opportunities

Everyday Young Hero Award
Deadline: Ongoing
Awarded weekly to a young person from around the world who exemplifies an extraordinary commitment to service, the Everyday Young Hero Award program is open to youth ages 5-25. Nominations must come from a parent, teacher or other adult mentor. Winners are announced in the NSB, featured on YSA’s website and showcased within its social media outlets. Everyday Young Heroes also receive a certificate, award and press release. Learn more here.

Faculty/Staff Conferences or Professional Development Events
International Association for Research on Service-Learning and Community Engagement: 2013 Annual Conference
November 6-8, 2013 in Omaha, NE
For more than a decade, IARSLCE has supported the process of discovery by assembling scholars, practitioners, funders, and students to share and discuss their research related to community engagement and service-learning. This year’s program will highlight the following: program evaluation and assessment, community outcomes and impact, STEM and service-learning, Non-profit partnership resources, international impact, synthesizing and advancing research, and focus upon student growth through engagement. To register for the conference or learn more, click here.

Pathways to Achieving Civic Engagement Conference
February 5, 2014, University of North Carolina Wilmington
Registration opens: November 15, 2013
The PACE Conference provides faculty, staff, administrators and community stakeholders with valuable information and skills they can utilize in their civic engagement work. Workshops provide research, resources and best practice models for every aspect of civic engagement work. For more information, click here.

2014 Gulf-South Summit
March 26-28, 2014, Auburn University
The mission of the Gulf-South Summit on Service-Learning and Civic Engagement though Higher Education is to promote networking among practitioners, research, ethical practices, reciprocal campus-community partnerships, sustainable programs, and a culture of engagement and public awareness through service-learning and other forms of civic engagement. To register, click here.

MONUMENTAL, the 25th Annual National Service-Learning Conference
April 9-12, 2014 in Washington D.C.
Monumental, co-hosted by YSA (Youth Service America), provides more than workshops and keynote addresses; it is an extension of the classroom, allowing for the youth and adult attendees to be part of something bigger. Both youth and adults gain the tools, resource, ideas and inspiration to return home to improve their practice, their schools, and their communities. The conference’s multiple day, concurrent session format offers a self-directed, facilitated learning environment with education sessions, discussion groups, and interactive workshops designed specifically for all levels of attendees engaged in service, learning, and youth development focusing on current and emerging issues, best practices, and the challenges facing us today. For registration and more information, click here.

Community-Campus Partnerships for Health (CCPH) Conference
April 30-May 3, 2014 in Chicago, Illinois
At a time when community-campus partnerships are gaining attention and increasingly recognized as vital to addressing and solving our most pressing health, social, environmental and economic challenges, the conference promises to be our best yet as hundreds of community members, faculty, staff, students, funders and policy makers from around the world convene for 4 days of skill-building, networking and agenda-setting. For registration and more information, click here.

Funding/Publication Opportunities
Bringing Theory to Practice: Engaged Learning, Civic Engagement & Development, and Psychosocial Well-Being of College Students Grants.
Deadline: accepted quarterly (Dec. 15, March 15, June 15, Sep. 15)
Seminar Grants up to $1,000 are available for institutions to bring together diverse members of the campus community for meaningful conversations which will result in institutional actions. Program Development Grants up to $10,000 are available for institutions to enhance or extend a program which is consistent with our objectives. Grants up to $75,000, distributed over two years, are available for institutions proposing to demonstrate the outcomes of building institutional capacity for a program of work consistent with our purpose. For more information, click here.

Lawrence Foundation Grants
Deadline: November 1
The foundation awards program and operating grants with no geographic restrictions in support of the environment, education, human services, disaster relief, and other causes. To learn more, click here.

American Association of University Women: Community Action Grants
Deadline: January 15, 2014
Community Action grants provide funds to individuals, AAUW branches and AAUW state organizations as well as local community-based nonprofit organizations for innovative programs or non-degree research projects that promote education and equality for women and girls. $2,000-$10,000 grants provide funding for community-based projects. For more information, click here.

Do Something Seed Grants
Deadline: Ongoing, one grant awarded weekly
These $500 grants are for youth-led (25 and under) project ideas and programs that are just getting started, or to jump-start a program. These grants can also be used towards projects that are already developed and sustainable, towards the next steps of a project and organization to help expand the project and increase impact. Learn more by clicking here.

The Pollination Project
Deadline: Ongoing
Makes grants to individual change-makers with an idea and a plan to make their community and their world a better place. Their goal is to give $1,000 seed grants to individual change makers, 365 days a year. Learn more here.

The International Undergraduate Journal for Service-Learning, Leadership, and Social Change
Deadline: Ongoing
The Journal only accepts articles from undergraduate students. The Journal considers three types of articles: Articles that discuss the development of a service-learning project and the impact of the project on the community served; A case study of a service-learning project; A reflection on service-learning and the development of personal leadership. For more information about this publishing opportunity, please visit Columbia College’s website.

-----

U-Serve Carolina is brought to you by the Office of Student Engagement at the University of South Carolina. To submit an announcement to U-Serve Carolina, e-mail servicelearning@sc.edu. For current information about service-learning at the University of South Carolina, please visit our website at http://www.sc.edu/studentengagement/. Follow on Facebook or Twitter.